

They've done it again...

West Virginia University's Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity held its 45th Annual Run for Autism on November 7, 2015. They continue to help support the regional advocacy, information and referral services of the Autism Society of Pittsburgh. Students carried the traditional autism puzzle piece 78 miles from Pittsburgh to Morgantown.

Since 1970, the combined Alpha Phi Omega fraternities of WVU and the University of Pittsburgh have raised over $98,000. Their "Walk for Autism" in April 2014 and a "Run for Autism" in November 2014 resulted in a donation of $4,000 to the Autism Society of Pittsburgh in May 2015.
